1. Introduction

As one of the leading pharmaceutical traders in Europe, the PHOENIX group makes a major contribution to pharmaceutical healthcare provision within the countries where PHOENIX operates. PHOENIX enjoys an excellent reputation within the pharmaceutical industry with all country Governmental authorities and other business partners. This positive reputation is the foundation of our success and the result of years of work by all of our employees. The personal attitude that is reflected in the daily conduct of each employee and the way in which the company is led are therefore of key significance.

PHOENIX seeks to comply with all applicable laws, regulation and guidance principles that are applicable within the European Union and within the the individual country where PHOENIX operates. PHOENIX respects the principles of freedom of expression, the right to information, the independence of media, as well as the protection of privacy.

The Code of Conduct sets the standards for all employees working in any company within the PHOENIX group.

It also provides our employees with the framework for a positive and ethical work environment.

It may sometimes seem difficult to do the right thing for a number of reasons. Nonetheless, it is mandatory for all employees to comply with the Code of Conduct. This ensures that the PHOENIX group will continue to enjoy the respect of all its stakeholders.

Definitions

Unless the context indicates otherwise, the following terms used in the Code of Conduct are defined as follows:

- ▶ PHOENIX or PHOENIX group: PHOENIX Pharmahandel GmbH & Co KG and any of its direct and indirect subsidiaries.
- ▶ Employees: Executive Board members, directors, managers, and employees of the PHOENIX group.

Which rules of conduct apply to PHOENIX group employees?

All employees, regardless of their position in the company, are required to follow the Code of Conduct and to ensure that the employees that report to them also do so. PHOENIX guarantees that its employees are informed of the content and significance of this Code of Conduct, as well as all laws and internal regulations that apply to their area of responsibility.

In line with the management guidelines of the PHOENIX group, which define the principles of good management and cooperation, our managers should act as role models with regard to the application of the Code of Conduct in their day-to-day business.

All employees are expected to carry out their responsibilities in a professional manner that protects the image and reputation of PHOENIX. They should always treat customers, suppliers, and fellow employees with respect and honesty. Activities that could lead to any unlawful practice, might harm the reputation of PHOENIX, or cause a potential conflict of interest must be avoided.

All employees are expected to ensure that their behaviour and the opinions they express in public, both in their professional and private life, do not harm the reputation of PHOENIX. When expressing opinions in private, no reference should be made to the employee's own role or work within the company.

The Code of Conduct cannot cover all issues. However, a few simple questions can help to evaluate a situation:

- ▶ Is it legal and ethical?
- ▶ Can I explain it to my family and friends?
- ▶ What impression would be conveyed if it appeared in a newspaper?

Furthermore, common sense must always be applied.

If an employee is unsure about how a specific situation should be assessed, additional advice is to be sought from the employee's manager, the Country Management at the employee's site, the compliance organisation responsible for the employee's country, or the PHOENIX group Compliance Manager, before taking any further steps.

All employees are expected to raise any concerns regarding any misconduct or breach of the Code of Conduct.

If the Code of Conduct is violated, this may have serious consequences for the employee, including termination of employment. The same applies to employees who threaten or engage in retaliation against any of their colleagues who report a suspected violation of law or the Code of Conduct.

2. Good Distribution Practice

PHOENIX is committed to ensuring high quality standards in the supply of pharmaceutical products. All countries must comply with the principles and guidelines of Good Distribution Practice (GDP) as enacted the European Parliament and all other local

Any potential security incidents relating to e-mail, computer, or network security should be reported to the local IT department without any delay. Local IT policies must be observed at all times.

6. Communities and the Public

6.1 Environmental protection

PHOENIX is committed to managing and developing its business in a sustainable manner. Moreover, PHOENIX is dedicated to responsible environmental practices. These principles of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) are emphasised at all levels of responsibility within the PHOENIX group.

It is important to comply with all relevant environmental laws and regulations. Responsible environmental practices should be integral to all business processes, planning, and decision-making. All employees are expected to carry out tasks in the course of their day-to-day business in an environmentally responsible manner.

6.2 External communication

Targeted external communication is part of our business strategy. It is particularly important for our reputation that any information issued by PHOENIX is accurate, consistent, and timely.

The Country Management or country's Communications Manager must immediately report any events that they become aware of that may harm the reputation of the PHOENIX group to Group Communications. All countries are expected to have a crisis communication plan that is updated on a continuous basis.

Only the PHOENIX group CEO, the PHOENIX group Communications Director, or their designated representatives may communicate information about group operating results, the profitability of group business activities, or group company guidelines. All countries are required to ensure similar practices for any local communication.

If an employee is asked questions by the media or other external organisations, these should be declined by making 'no comment' and then immediately forwarded to the communications department of the country's business unit or the country's corporate communications department. This includes requests for interviews or other types of media enquiries (TV/radio, newspapers, magazines, local/national and trade media, as well as Internet sites).

External lecture engagements require prior approval by Country Management. Any media request about the PHOENIX group corporate strategy, group-wide policies, or group financial information should be referred to Group Communications: group.communications@phoenixgroup.eu.

It is also prohibited to make comments that deliberately damage the business or its reputation. These include: threats and insults, disrespectful material (e.g. photos), falsehoods, and statements that seriously harm the company and make further cooperation unacceptable.

6.3 Social media practices

Employees are not permitted under any circumstances to make negative statements about colleagues, business partners, or stakeholders on social media websites. Social media websites include but not limited to platforms such as Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Wikipedia, or blogs.

7. How to Report a violation of the Code of Conduct

PHOENIX will treat each report of a violation confidentially and ensure that the employee raising the concern does not face any disadvantages. Each report will be investigated in detail. As long as the employee raising a concern acts in good faith, honestly and with integrity then this employee will not suffer any negative consequences in the event that he or she is mistaken in raising such a concern. Any type of negative remark towards employees who have raised concerns is treated as a serious breach of the Code of Conduct. If an employee is involved in violating the Code of Conduct, the timely raising of a concern and assistance in providing full clarification and limiting the damage may lessen the legal consequences.

Generally, concerns should be addressed to the Compliance Manager in charge of the relevant countries. However, employees may contact the PHOENIX group Compliance Manager directly if they feel uncomfortable bringing issues forward at their country level. Messages to the PHOENIX group Compliance Manager may be submitted directly, confidentially, and/or anonymously by e-mail to compliance@phoenixgroup.eu.
